Rham Plateau

The Rham Plateau proudly overlooks three sides of the Alzette valley and offers a stunning view of the old city of Luxembourg.

It has been an integral part of Luxembourg's fortifications since the 15th century, and was later expanded by Vauban with four imposing military barracks, currently used as modern and comfortable housing for seniors.

Take the opportunity to stop for a few minutes, stroll amongst the century-old plane trees, and walk up to the promontory behind the ruins of the four towers. Once at the top, you will have a breathtaking view of the old fortifications, the Holy-Ghost Citadel and the Corniche.

Continue your tour with the next Petrusse Express, which runs every 30 minutes!

luxembourg_second Highly recommend a visit of @neimenster, the picturesque abbey in #Grund. Can you imagine #Wercollier was imprisoned here by the Nazis, the same place 70 years later you now find his stunning sculptures? #leprisonnierpolitique #privatecollection #permanentexhibition
